To the Hon the Senate and House of Representatives in Legislature assembled,

THE undersigned beg leave to represent that a Boom from Ayers Island at Stillwater to extend up and across the main Penobscot River through a portion of Ayers Falls to the eastern shore would greatly accommodate and advantage the Mills and those interested in the manufacture of Lumber at that place and in case of injury to the boom above or the escape of logs or other lumber would afford to the owners and others great facilities in the preservation of their property and save to the community a large amount of property which now annually passes down said river into tide waters or below the mills where they can be safely and advantageously manufactured

Wherefore we pray your honorable body to grant us an Act of Incorporation with such immunities and restrictions as may seem just and as will subserve the interests aforesaid And as in duty bound will ever pray

GOOD NEWS FROM NEW-HAMPSHIRE!

We are indebted to Mr Jerome, of the News Room, for the following returns, mostly from the towns in Rockingham county, communicated in a letter to the News Room from a gentleman of this city, now in Portsmouth The results thus far, indicate a tremendous Whig gain If the Whig increase in other parts of the State, in proportion, as large as it is in these towns, the reign of Isaac Hill is at an end

PENOBSCOT BOOM CORPORATION. We learn from Augusta that the difficulties between the Corporation and the petitioners are arranged, and that both parties have agreed upon a bill, which was probably reported to the Legislature, by the Committee, yesterday The principal features of the bill are, that a Committee of three persons shall be annually appointed by the Governor and Council, whose duty it shall be, to inspect the boom and piers, and notice the situation of the lumber in the boom; to prescribe what shall be done for the security of the property, and for rafting and delivering of logs, &c, and for preventing loss, damage and delay, and for the proper guarding of passage-ways, and also to preserve the navigation of the river and branches The corporation is bound to do whatever the Committee shall prescribe for the above purposes, forthwith, and shall be held liable for all damage which may occur in consequence of any delay, and the personal property of the stockholders is to be liable for such damage, and in case of neglect or delay on the part of the corporation, the Committee are required to make the necessary improvements, at the expense of the corporation, and are authorized to [seize] and hold the tolls of the corporation, till fully paid The Committee are required to visit the boom about the 20th of March annually, and whenever requested by five or more persons interested in lumber on the river, and to keep a record of their doings An agent is to be appointed by the Committee (to be paid by the corporation) to superintend the delivery of logs at the boom and the securing them below, and when he pronounces them to be well secured, the corporation shall be no longer responsible for any loss, provided it follow the directions of the agent.

These are the most important provisions of the bill. We understand that it will probably pass at once, and without material alteration

The "Firemen's Ball" at the Exchange last evening, was a grand affair fully equal to the 'Birth night Military Ball' The members of the Department were as usual "on hand 'at' the calling of the roll", but not as usual, were accompanied by a band of partners who, by their numberless and matchless charms and graces, seemed calculated for any purpose, rather than that of extinguishing flames And indeed, it is a fact, however singular it may appear, when connected with the assembly of the "Bangor Fire Department" that upon this occasion not a single spark was put out, on the contrary, it is greatly to be feared, that if flames were not actually enkindled, the trains were laid which at some future time, will be very likely, unless much caution is exercised, to blaze out, by a match.

The Hall was elegantly decorated, with all the insignia of the different fire companies The buckets, the hose, the caps, the hooks, and all the et ceteras of "the corps" which

"Like hand in hand insurance plates,
Most unavoidably creates,
A thought of conflagration"

were tastefully arranged upon the walls, and pendent from the ceiling

FIERI FACIAS

Our latest accounts from Washington, leave no doubt of the death, ere this, of Mr Carter, our Representative from Oxford District One letter, dated Friday, gives the report that he was already dead. Another, dated a few hours later at half past eight in the evening, states that he was then alive, but could not probably survive the night.

A [citizen] of this town, Col Thomas, who was in Montreal last week, informs us that he was [permitted] to visit the prisoners now in confinement in that city. He is fully satisfied that they are treated with humanity, and all the attention [illegible] [illegible] He speaks of the [illegible] [illegible] large, well light[ed] [illegible] and furnished, even with [illegible] Madeira [illegible] with fortitude, Numbers are dis[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [Burlington Free] [illegible]

WASHINGTON, March 9, 1838

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier

SIR, I have thought it might be useful to devote a single epistle to the object of unmasking to your readers a portion of the profligacy and tergiversation of the official organ at the seat of Government The Globe exerts a most pernicious influence upon the public mind, because it is extensively read, without any adequate conception, on the part of its readers, of its utter recklessness of truth, or of the boldness with which it contradicts itself, and still perseveres in reasserting its consistency, after quotations from its columns are again and again shewn up, in the most glaring contrast The Madisonian, an ably conducted conservative Journal, in this city, has most manifestly proved beyond all controversy, to the satisfaction of every mind of common apprehension that the sub-treasury system was denounced in the columns of the Globe, as disorganizing, subversive of the principles of the Constitution, and of the practice of the government from 1789 to the present day To prove this, take the following from the Globe in 1834, when a similar plan was suggested by Mr Leigh

"But if Mr Leigh mean that these Treasurers should be appointed by Congress, and that the President should not be allowed, so far as they are concerned, to take care that the laws be faithfully executed, by exercising over them the power of supervision and removal, then he is for overturning the Constitution, and establishing new depositories of Executive power, unknown to its provisions, and repugnant to its spirit THE PROPOSITION IS DISORGANIZING AND REVOLUTIONARY, SUBVERSIVE OF THE FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES OF OUR GOVERNMENT, and of its entire practice from 1789 down to this day The people may conceive how safe their money would be if, in lieu of the present system, superintended by a responsible President, elected by themselves twenty five or thirty separate Treasurers were created, responsible only to Congress, and during a large portion of every year, while Congress is not in session, free from all restraint or control To prevent the plunder of the Treasury of untold millions, Congress must either remain always in session, or clothe some committee or commission with power to sit during the recess, and to control, suspend, or remove their army of Treasurers The Constitution would then be subverted, and the practice of the old Confederation, in which Congress exercised Executive as well as Legislative power, again restored And this may be the intended consummation of that "revolution" which Mr Clay announced in the Senate last winter had already begun "

The attempt to maintain that this view of the scheme in 1834, as here cited, is consistent with the support given to it now, when it has become an administration measure, would pass, as too contemptible for notice or refutation, if it were not for the earnest recommendations, which daily appear with a design to press upon the favorable regard of the public, the most pernicious and mendacious public Journal, that ever disgraced a party or a cause it attempted to support, or marred the principles it sought to inspire

In defence of its position in 1834 the Globe now asserts that it applied the charge of disorganization &c to the then "contemplated transfer of the trust to the two Houses of Congress" See Globe of March 2d, 'It Congress, (says the same article) has by joint resolution the right of appointing Treasury Agents, why may it not appoint all the Secretary, Treasurer and Collectors?'

Now let us see what Mr Calhoun regards to be the object of the Sub Treasury Bill

"It followed, accordingly, on the suspension in May last, which totally separated the Government and the banks, that the revenues were thrown into the hands of the Executive, where they have since remained under its exclusive control, without any legal provision for their safe keeping The object of this bill is to supply this omission, to take the money out of the hands of the Executive, and place it under the custody of the laws, and to prevent the renewal of a connexion which has proved so unfortunate to both the Government and the banks "

Again in the same speech, in the description of the present bill, he says

"My object as I have already stated is to take the public funds out of the hands of the Executive, where they have been thrown by the operation of our acts, and to place them under the custody of law, and to provide for a gradual and slow, but a perpetual, separation between the Government and the banks "

Now will any man of common sense and common honesty, pretend that in 1834, the Globe did not denounce, what it now approves? And does not that paper, now denounce as traitors and apostates, those Conservatives, who treat that system now, as the Globe did then? If Mr Calhoun understands the nature and purpose of the bill he is supporting, the denunciations here quoted, from the Globe of 1834, apply to it, and all the denials and prevarications it is now publishing, do but aggravate the character of its mendacity

There is another particular in which the cou[rse] of the Globe is [an] equivocal and pernicious It affects to deny the tendency of its action to be destructive to Banks and credit, while its columns are perpetually filled with the most degrading denunciations of Banks and merchants Its daily labors are to excite towards these institutions and this class of people the contempt and jealousy of its readers Merchant, says the Globe, is synonymous with federalist, and we all know the disparaging epithets it heaps upon that name.

Again, it denies, occasionally, its favor to anything like an exclusive hard money currency but yet the people are deceived and deluded by its perpetual panegyrics upon [illegible] [illegible] Jackson hard money, which it [illegible] to be the badge of the Administration, while the opposition is stigmatized as Rag Barons [illegible] friends of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] to bring [illegible] [illegible] [general] contempt. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of profligacy, and [illegible] hostility to the [illegible] [illegible] by the [illegible]

when in sober truth, the Globe itself, has been the most fruitful source of all the mischief that has arisen to the currency, and by its daily course is now essentially contributing to prolong the mischief, by exciting a spirit of distrust towards all Banks, and by urging the Government to join in the hostility by separating itself from all connexion with them as fiscal agents It is believed that the conductors of the Globe first elicited from Gen Jackson his fulminatory letters against the Banks, from which they draw so freely to make more effective their own clamorous vindictiveness. Gen Jackson, and those who ministered to his passions, in carrying on that unholy war which resulted in the downfall of the U States Bank and the up building of the Pet Banks, were furious at the sore discomfiture in which their favorite scheme had terminated In ill temper and disappointment, therefore, at the result, so often foretold by the Whigs, as the natural and necessary effect of their own folly, it was sought to cast the blame upon the Banks It was deemed better, by these reckless innovators, that the work of destruction to Banks and business should be consummated, rather than that the wisdom and policy of President Jackson's administration should be "well questioned" But nevertheless, the people have questioned, and are now questioning the wisdom of that policy, that has shed such disastrous blight over all their fair prospects They are now looking with wary jealousy toward those who prefer to maintain their own personal infallibility, and still urge forward in the road to ruin, rather than confess their error, and retrace their footsteps With the attention of the people awakened, as it now is, it is more mortifying, than it is alarming, to perceive in our northern mercantile cities, Journals, conducted with ability and praise worthy industry, publishing with commendation, the Globe's Prospectus, and bespeaking for that Journal the support and confidence of a free and intelligent people - That paper is daily sinking, in the eyes of all good tempered and considerate people, as the degraded vehicle of loathed and misleading calumnies The frequent detection and exposure of its audacious mendacity, is acting as a counterpoise to the influence it derives from its official character, and operate on its power to do mischief. AN OBSERVER AT WASHINGTON.

[Extract from the Augusta Correspondence of the "Eastern Republican

Agreeably to previous notice a meeting of the Democratic members of the Legislature, and other prominent members of the party from different parts of the State was holden in this place yesterday, "for the purpose of noticing in a suitable manner the atrocious murder of the Hon Jonathan Cilley" The meeting was addressed by Wm P Preble, Charles Jarvis, and J T P Dumont, Esqrs by the latter in a truly pathetic and eloquent style, well suited to an occasion like this From a warm and feeling heart, overflowing with all the tender sympathies of our nature, and filled with the noble sentiments of the soul, he expressed himself in a strain of pathos, which drew tears from many of the audience while the two former adopted the true style of the demagogue, showing the hypocrisy of their profession of sympathy for the friends of the deceased, and that their object was to mount the whirlwind rather than condole with the friends of the deceased or assuage the pains of a bereaved and afflicted widow

While the people in different parts of the State were holding meetings without distinction of party, to express their feelings upon this tragical event, it is to be regretted that the Republican members of the Legislature should have been seduced by the Judge and his coterie, under the pretence of a meeting of condolence, into a party caucus to make a hobby of the decease, to be weekly and daily dragged before the public and the bereaved family, through the next political campaign What consolation can it be to the afflicted widow to have the ghost of her husband presented to her view in every newspaper she touches? Or what comfort can the friends of the deceased derive from the sentiments contained in the Resolves adopted at this meeting? Or in what estimation can they hold those who will obtrude themselves upon them in the garb of friends, while yet overwhelmed in sadness and grief, and mourning, at the loss of a near and dear friend, who, from his own sense of honor, felt bound to acknowledge the practice of duelling, and voluntarily entered into the combat, and officially and impertinently tell them, 'That we disapprove and condemn the practice of duelling, as a violation of the laws of God as a system appertaining only to an age of comparative barbarism a system which in its operation reduces the great and good to a level with the debased and brutalized of mankind

In reading the resolves adopted at this meeting, I could but feel mortified at their glaring inconsistencies, and I do most sincerely regret that this meeting should feel bound to express sentiments calculated still more deeply to wound the feelings of the deceased's friends, or to adopt a course, which, if persisted in, must be attended with fearful consequences to the Republican party at the ensuing elections

In the second Resolve this meeting are made to say "we do honor and appreciate those noble hearted, generous, elevated but mistaken feelings, which led him to stand forth a champion for the constitutional right of free debate, and a fearless vindicator of the equal privileges and claims to respect, of the gentlemen of the north.," and in another, a committee is directed to express to the bereaved and distressed widow "the high sense entertained by the democratic republicans of Maine, of the distinguished talents, moral worth, and private and political character of the deceased husband What is this but saying to the distressed widow, we entertain a high sense of the "moral worth" of those "noble-hearted, generous, elevated feelings which let your husband to commit 'a violation of the laws of God," and to do an Act which levelled him, in our estimation, "with the debased and brutalized of mankind."

We understand that the first Monday in April has been fixed upon for the election of a Representative in Lincoln District to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Mr Cilley.

"LEEDS, V[ermont]" As this town has been [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [senatorial] aspect, it may be well to state that at their annual meeting, the town Clerk [illegible] [illegible] to Augusta for the purpose of testifying against his own oath, and [illegible] had been town Clerk for seventeen [years], [illegible] [illegible] [private] life. MAINE LEGISLATURE

IN SENATE

TUESDAY, March 13.

Read once and to-morrow assigned Bills to change the name of Huntressville to Lowell to incorporate the town of Northfield regulating the fees of Jurors - to divorce Wm Vance from Charity Vance, his wife Resolves, authorizing a loan in behalf of the State - authorizing the Governor and Council to erect a granite monument over the remains of the late Enoch Lincoln

Reference to the next Legislature - on petition of Mark Trafton et al

Messrs Woodman, Lake and Mildram were joined as conferees on the disagreeing vote of the two Houses on the report of the committee on State Lands, relative to the Moose River Bridge

Messrs Cargill, Prince and Mildram were joined as conferees on the disagreeing vote of the two Houses in relation to the Bill for the supply of rifle companies with rifles

The bill to suppress the of sale ardent spirits was taken up, read a second time, and the amendments of the House adopted Mr Fletcher moved to strike out the 2d section and insert a substitute Mr Emery called for a division of the question, which prevailed, and the question of striking out the second section, was taken and carried. Mr Fletcher withdrew his amendment to enable Mr E Robinson to offer a substitute (the effect of which was to prohibit the sale entirely, except for medicine and medical purposes and obliging the purchaser to prove it called upon, that the liquor was purchased for one of the two purposes) Mr Ham moved to strike out the word "medical," giving as a reason that he did not wish the profession to which he belonged to have a privilege not enjoyed by other classes and that there were doubtless other purposes for which ardent spirits could be used which would equally subserve the interest of mankind, as for medical nostrums Mr Lake moved to strike out the word "mechanical urging the same reason, he himself being a mechanic Mr Greene inquired whether the phrase "mechanical purposes would include liquor drank by mechanics, if so, he wished to have it understood, and if it was to permit mechanics to drink, while it excluded others, he should go for striking out. Mr Emery said if the last two amendments were adopted a sentence would be left standing without any meaning, and he hoped the whole provision would be stricken out Mr Emery, Smart, Soule and F. Robinson, each made some remarks and Mr Robinson's amendment was lost 6 to 9. Mr Ham moved to reconsider the vote striking out the 2d section, which prevailed Mr H then moved to strike out the word 'common before beverage adopted Mr Osgood moved to strike out all after the first section lost The bill as amended then passed to be engrossed by yeas and nays as follows,

Yeas Messrs Belcher, Cargill, Fletcher, Greene, Jaques, E Robinson, T Robinson, Smart, Soule, Steward, Whipple 11

Nays - Messrs Emery, Ham, Heagan Higgins, Lake, Littlefield, Mildram, Osgood, Prince, Woodman 10

Hiram Belcher was excused from voting

Mr Huggins called up the Bill to repeal the 1st section of an Act regulating the practice of Physic and Surgery Mr Smart spoke at length in support of the Bill, and after he had concluded, the subject was laid on the table, and the Senate adjourned to meet at half past 2 o clock this afternoon

IN THE HOUSE

TUESDAY March 13

The vote passing to be engrossed the bill to incorporate the P[assamaquoddy] Boom Corporation, was reconsidered on motion of Mr Bones

The Bill enlarging the jurisdiction of Justices of the Peace was amended, in several particulars, and passed to be engrossed by yeas and nays

Passed to be Engrossed Bill divorceing Wm Vance from his wife Resolves in relation to the lands reserved for towns in this State

The Bill to enlarge the jurisdiction of Justices of the Peace was taken up, several amendments adopted, and a long discussion on its merits had at the conclusion of which it was laid on the table

In opposition to the bill Mr Paine of Sanford said, that he knew that the administration of the law in this State, had become onerous to many, and it was not strange, being dissatisfied that they should be seeking remedies for the supposed evil

But however just these complaints may be, it is certain that it is better to stand still than to go wrong and adopt a bill fraught with so many objections as that under consideration.

The gentleman from Paris says that it will diminish expense, that it will facilitate business I do not believe it will do either It will be only a stepping stone to the higher Courts, and an exceedingly unsafe one Who, when he has a claim of an hundred dollars will be satisfied to make Justices of the Peace, taking them as they are, Judge and Jury, Judges of the law and the facts I can assure you sir, appeals will be almost as numerous as the institution of suits so that this blind step before a Justice of the Peace will be expense thrown away and utterly lost Again can the Justice while he has only 30 cents for entry and 15 cents for execution, take the responsibility that would be imposed on him?

There would be little safety, very few would keep records that could be relied on and confusion, litigation and vexation, would be the certain consequences - Adjourned

VAN BURENISM ABANDONED The Providence Journal states, that the Van Buren party, have abandoned the field in despair, and will set up no candidate for Governor, in opposition to Mr Sprague

BENTLEY'S MISCELLANY,

EDITED BY 'BOZ,' with illustrations by Cruikshank Never has a periodical more earnestly fulfilled its promises than this hilarious magazine It undertook to be comical, and it is comical almost to a fault The humor of Boz is humor per se there is nothing like it, nothing so good in its way, and it would appear that the springs from which it is drawn are inexhaustible
[London Atlas]

The extraordinary share of popularity this Comic Periodical is said to have experienced in England under the editorial management of Charles Dickens Esq has led the subscriber to believe that an American edition of a work of such high repute for wit and talent would in addition to the Reprints of Reviews and Magazines of a character already issued by him, be acceptable he therefore, respectfully takes leave to announce to the public his determination to commence an American series (fac simile of the original) of Bentley's Miscellany, with the January numbers of the present year, 1838, and which he may expect to have ready during the month of February

Many editors of journals of acknowledged taste have extracted copiously from the numbers of the Miscellany as they have appeared and the Pickwick Papers, emanating from the pen of the talented editor, is now in course of profitable republication in this country The character of the Work therefore, from these circumstances, it may be presumed is so far favorably known as partially to have received the stamp of public approbation, which encourages the proprietor to hope that in being the mere humble instrument of presenting the first complete reprint of BENTLEY'S MISCELLANY to the literati of the United States he has not mistaken the public taste, and if his inference in this respect be correct he may, with confidence, look forward to the result.
WM LEWER,
Broadway corner of Pine Street

Conditions 1 The Work will be issued in monthly numbers as quickly after the receipt of the original copy as practicable Price 50 cents per number, or Five Dollars per annum, payable in advance

II It will be handsomely printed in a bold type on a paper of first rate quality, size demy 8vo, and stitched up in a cover of unique design, and be made in every respect to correspond with the London edition. Subscriptions rec'd by

NEW AND VALUABLE SCHOOL BOOK!
THE attention of School Committees Teachers and Parents is invited to the examination of the "JUVENILE READER," a selection of easy Reading Lessons, by a Teacher a new edition of which revised and corrected we have just published It is believed that the book is one which has been very much wanted in our common schools, and indeed it was compiled at the request of many of our best Teachers The compiler is a gentleman of known abilities and long experience in his profession The pieces in this book, are chiefly selected from popular works designed for youth and it is believed, will have a healthy moral influence in those schools in which it is adopted The book comes at a very low price and has been adopted in a great many Schools with decided approbation and having been stereotyped, is free from the danger of having any alterations made in it, which is the greatest trouble with all school books
Those connected with schools or interested in any manner, are requested to call and examine it

DISEASES OF THE LUNGS
Deservedly the most popular remedy ever known in America!
VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAM The following recommendation is from Dr Jacob Myers
Extract of a letter from Dr Jacob Myers
"The Vegetable Pulmonary Balsam has been sold in this country for two years and the medicine has gained an uncommon celebrity for it scarcely in one instance failed of having the desired effect I am by no means in favor of the many nostrums, most of which are impositions upon a credulous public, but that which I know by experience to be effectual, I cannot help but give my approbation thereto A counterfeit preparation has been offered here by a travelling agent of Comstock N. Y., and there is also another article vended here that is strongly suspected to be spurious
JACOB MYERS M D
Mifflinton, Juniata co, Penn May 3, 1837"
 Many new and highly interesting certificates may be examined on the bill of directions
Note There are many counterfeit preparations, assuming wholly or in part the name of the original and true V P Balsam.
The true article is signed Sampson Reed, on the label to each bottle. Price 50 cts.
The above article is for sale by G W HOLDEN, Bangor. nov19 4m
